

WORLD STRINGS RARE RAGAS

Tuesday 22 June, 2010 - 7.30pm

Mercury Theatre, Colchester, Essex CO1 1PT

London Sitar Ensemble, Tunde Jegede & James Barralet

A unique cross cultural collaboration between London Sitar Ensemble, Kora artist Tunde Jegede and young Cellist James Barralet. The combination of Sitar, Kora, Cello and Tabla lends itself to an exceptionally beautiful blend of rare Indian traditional ragas with Western Classical Music. Also featuring Puish Kumar on Tabla.

Music director: Sanjay Guha.

Following their sellout concert at the Southbank, the Mercury Theatre is pleased to showcase the Ensemble for the first time as part of Explore Culture One World Festival
